Panelists included Coastal Commission Executive Director Jack Ainsworth and Coastal Commissioners Effie Turnbull-Sanders and Erik Howell. The City and its recently certified Local Coastal Program were noted numerous times during the panel discussions and in the course material.

TEAMWORK BY NEWPORT BEACH FIRE & POLICE DEPARTMENT

On August 26, Newport Beach Police Department (NBPD) responded to an emergency call of a person screaming. Newport Beach Fire Department (NBFD) crews from NM62, paramedics Callinan, Carter and NE62, Captain White, Engineer Reideler, and Firefighter Terzo arrived to the medical call. Upon NBPD personnel's arrival, Officers Cox and Hume found the patient face down on the floor and appeared to be suffering from an opioid overdose. The patient had shallow breathing and on several occasions stopped breathing. At that time, Officer Cox administered two doses of Narcan to the patient. The doses restored the patient's breathing. NBFD arrived and assumed Advanced Life Support measures. The patient was transported to the hospital and made a full recovery. The NBPD has been approved by OC-EMS to administer Narcan (4mg/0.1 ml) Nasal Spray to suspect opioid overdoses prior to arrival of Fire personnel. Just four hours prior to this incident, Officer Cox completed his training of administering Narcan.

On September 3, NBFD crews from NM62, Paramedic Janis, Anderson, NE62, Captain Dall, Engineer Keene, Firefighter Radas, NT62, Captain Sutherland, Engineer Hopper, Paramedic Laser and Tillerperson Terzo responded to a full arrest, a patient who was not breathing and did not have a heartbeat. Upon their arrival, NBPD officers were on scene performing CPR on the patient who had drowned. Fire crews provided Advanced Life Support on scene as well as during transport to the hospital. Due to the actions of all crews involved and NBPD, the patient made a full recovery and discharged home from the hospital.

The Civil Service Board Welcomes New Members

Jane Della Grotta

Howard Herzog

The Civil Service Board recently welcomed two new Board Members to their roster. Jane Della Grotta, a 30-year resident of Newport Beach, was appointed to the Board at the City Council meeting on June 27. Jane brings a wealth of knowledge to the Board having worked with several other local cities as City Attorney and Benefits Coordinator. She has many years of experience with negotiations, employee benefits and hiring policies.

Howard Herzog, a 29-year Newport Beach resident, may be a familiar face as he previously served on the Arts Commission (1989-1996). Howard was appointed to the Board by City Council on July 25. Howard, an attorney, is self-employed as a Risk Consultant and is a certified public accountant and Chartered Global Management Accountant.

Congratulations! We look forward to your many contributions to the Civil Service Board.

2017 Employee Health Fair

On September 20, Human Resources hosted the 2017 Annual Employee Health Fair in the Civic Center Community Room. It is our hope that the City's Core Values were on display for all current and retired employees to see. We had a wonderful turnout with over 50 vendors, including some of our very own CNB Staff from OASIS, Library Services, and HR, and close to 400 current and retired employees. Thank you to the many employees and departments who donated time and resources to make this event a success!

THANK YOU to the Recreation & Senior Services team, Amanda Mahaffey, Brason Alexander, and Evan Sickles. Thank you to the Municipal Operations crew, Paul Ramirez, Rich Trevino, Marty Colver, Brian George, Harold Link, and Daniel Tovar. Thank you to Sonia Villalvazo, Scott Watson, and Ivan Juarez for donating time and resources. Thank you to Library Services and OASIS, and our very own HEAL Committee for hosting tables and showing us all you do!

Constructive Conflict Workshops

On Wednesday, September 13, two half-day Constructive Conflict workshops were presented by Brian Beamish from The Centre for Organizational Effectiveness. The workshops were held at the Newport Coast Community Center with a total of fifty-eight employees in attendance. Employees completed the Thomas-Kilmann Conflict Mode Instrument (TKI) to identify their preferred conflict mode. Mr. Beamish facilitated open discussions on difficult issues and provided information on how conflict-handling modes affect personal, group, and organizational dynamics. Employees worked in teams to solve a role play scenario utilizing their newly acquired skills from the workshop.

International Literacy Day

Our Literacy Services program welcomed guests to International Literacy Day last Thursday to honor the learners, tutors, and supporters of the program. Newport Beach City Councilman Will O' Neill read a City proclamation designating September 14, 2017 as Literacy Awareness Day in Newport Beach. Adult learner Carmen Caicedo shared the story of her home country, Venezuela, clearly illustrating the struggles the country faces today. Orange County Supervisor, Michelle Steel, presented a special award honoring the Library's Support Services Coordinator, Melissa Kelly, for her many years of work and dedication to Literacy Services. Michelle Steel also recognized and awarded two learners, Keyhan Zaker and Maria Alvarez, who became citizens this past year. In addition to Supervisor Michelle Steel, District Representative Tim Whitacre, City Councilmen Will O' Neil and Jeff Herdman, presented award-winner Negar Pourasad with certificates recognizing her achievements, goals and many accomplishments since joining the program. The inspiring program emphasized the importance of literacy skills in our society as well as the valuable link between literacy and libraries.

Digital Saturday

The Library had a very successful Digital Saturday last weekend with over 200 customers participating. We had hourly presentations on various digital resources in our Media Lab with all seats filled. Staff fielded questions from customers on eBooks, databases and our Tech Toys, at a lobby table and display. It was a good opportunity to acquaint customers with all of our digital resources, and many regular library users expressed surprise at just how much was available of which they had not previously been aware. There was a lot of interest in the upcoming genealogy classes and Tuesday tech classes. The NBPL Foundation also had a table in the Popular Library.

Axis 360 eBooks and eAudiobooks

We appreciate the participation of Axis 360 in the Digital Saturday event. Axis 360 is one of the two resources the Library engages to provide downloadable eBooks. We recently added eAudiobooks to the collection from Axis 360 so Digital Saturday was the perfect time to introduce the new addition. In fact, many of the new eAudiobooks from Axis 360 checked out by the end of the weekend. Axis 360 representatives gave two presentations in the Media Lab and then helped customers one-on-one to download their app. They also donated an iPad for us to give away and it drew a lot of attention and interest.

New Staff

Three new Library Pages started recently: Kevin Holley, Amanda Costigan and Acacia Bonura (9/20). Please be sure to welcome them when you have a chance. We hope to have a part-time department assistant and a part-time clerk soon.

Sculpture De-installation

Sculptures from the second phase of the Sculpture in Civic Center Park Exhibition were de-installed this past week.

Sculpture Exhibition Phase 3

The City Arts Commission will present a selection of nine sculptures to the City Council on Tuesday. If approved, the sculptures will be installed in mid- October with a Grand Opening event planned for October 28. The sculptures were selected by a jury panel that included Mr. Robert Nicoll, Dean of Development at Blizzard Academy, and Ms. Pat Gomez, Director at Irvine Fine Arts Center. The jury panel worked in conjunction with the Sculpture Exhibition Ad Hoc Subcommittee consisting of Arlene Greer, Grace Divine, and Miriam Baker of the City Arts Commission. The City Arts Commission approved the panel's selections on September 14.

Newport Beach Art Exhibition

The City Arts Commission announced that the 54th Annual Newport Beach Art Exhibition will be held next year on Saturday, June 16 at the Newport Beach Civic Center. The annual juried art show recognizes the talents and contributions of local and regional artists and gives the community the opportunity to view and purchase the art on display, mingle with the artists and enjoy a festive atmosphere of music, wine and food.

Newport Beach Art in the Park

More than 100 artists and artisans have signed up to display and sell their paintings, sculpture, jewelry, ceramics, glass art and other unique art pieces at the 14th Annual Newport Beach Art in the Park on Saturday, October 14 at the Newport Beach Civic Center. The annual event, presented by the Newport Beach Art Foundation, focuses attention on local artists and raises funds for City art programs. The Arts Foundation encourages community members to stop by to enjoy a festive day with the arts, have a bite to eat (lunch served by The Bungalow Restaurant), and mingle with the artists and craftspeople who will be exhibiting and selling their fine art and crafts. Chuck Jones Center for Creativity will provide art activities for all ages in conjunction with the event.

Cliff Drive Park "Scout House"

In August, City contractor Mariposa Landscape cleaned up the slope area at the bottom of Cliff Drive Park, near the "Scout House." Activities included grubbing out all the Pepper tree suckers, trimming the Ficus trees as well as the Pittosporum flowering plants, and removing dead ice plant from the slope.

The slope was filled in with Aloe camperi, Carissa, Pennisetum rubrum, and Bougainvillea.

Bench Donation

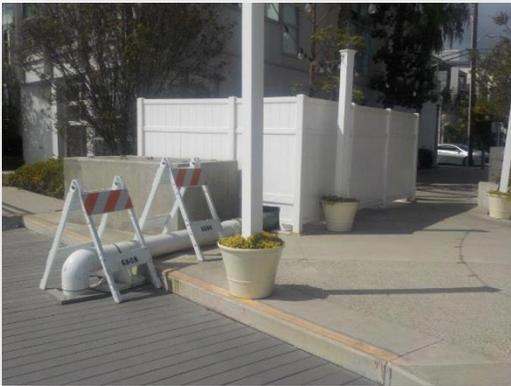

The Park Maintenance Crew recently installed dedicatory benches at Mariners Park. The benches are in memory of Mary Linn Baker, and Andy and Dorothy Thomas, donated by Don Williams.

Storm Season Preparations Have Begun

In preparation for the winter season, last week the Storm Drain Crew completed the annual installation of the 2,750-gallon-per-minute de-watering pump, and 6" PVC hard line piping at the low-lying area of 30th Street and Lafayette Avenue in Cannery Village. The pump will minimize street and private property flooding if high tide and rain events occur simultaneously.

This week, the Storm Drain Crew finished the removal of 435 inlet guards in front of catch basins on Balboa Boulevard, Balboa Island, and portions of Coast Highway in West Newport and Corona Del Mar to minimize the potential for flooding during the upcoming winter/rainy season. The program was implemented 15 years ago, and the inlet guards have proven to be one of the best structural improvements that the City has made in order to improve water quality and to keep trash and other debris from entering into our harbor and ocean during the dry spring and summer months.

Yard Fence Screen at the Corporation Yard Replaced

The fence screen at the Corporation Yard was recently replaced. The screen fencing was over 15 years old, was weathered and had reached its service life. The City contractor removed and replaced 400 linear feet of screen on the north and east sides of the Yard.

Relocation of the Reagan Statue

Last week, MOD staff assisted in the relocation of the Reagan Statue from Bonita Canyon Sports Park to the Civic Center Park. Field Maintenance Crew worked alongside Display Art, Inc. to saw cut the statue at the base from its existing footing.

The statue was then a passenger on a forklift and trucked to its new location near the elevator, where the Field Maintenance Crew had poured a one-ton concrete pad to secure the statue.

Green on the Green Expo

Municipal Operations and Public Works Departments held a booth at the Green on the Green Expo on Saturday, September 9th at the Civic Center. We talked about water conservation, how urban water runoff affects the bay and ocean water quality, and the City's street light LED replacement program. We wanted to show our residents and visitors that the City is doing our part to be Green. It was a lot of fun providing giveaways and interacting with visitors. Special thanks to Hazel McIntosh and John Kappeler of Public Works and Brent Millard of Municipal Operations for giving up a beautiful Saturday to join us.

WELCOMING NEW FACES TO THE NBPD FAMILY

On Monday, I had the honor of welcoming our five newest employees to the NBPD.

Chelsea Luitwieler and Cassandra Harward were sworn in as part-time Dispatchers, and Kaitlin Greathouse was sworn in as our newest Community Services Officer. I also had the opportunity to introduce our two newest Police Academy Graduates to the audience: Officers Christopher McMurray and Emmanuel Centeno.

One memorable part of the ceremony made an impression on everyone in attendance, and I wanted to take the opportunity to share it with you. We often use the term "NBPD Family" to describe the close-knit, caring atmosphere that we foster at the Police Department. In keeping with that sentiment, we all had a chance to celebrate the bonds of family during Chelsea's swearing-in.

As Chelsea took the stage and started to introduce her guests, one audience member in particular became increasingly fussy. Chelsea's son, Gavin, was missing his mom, so he was invited up to the stage to join her for her swearing-in.

It only seemed appropriate for me to give Gavin his own badge: a sticker badge with the title "Future Officer" on it. (Many officers – myself included – like to keep a stash of those stickers in our shirt pockets for just such an occasion.) Future Officer Gavin was a model of composure throughout the rest of the ceremony, watching as Mom took her oath and Dad came on stage to pin on her real badge.

In the words of my Executive Officer, Lt. Jay Short, who administered her oath of office—as Chelsea balanced her baby on her left hip and raised her right hand to be sworn in: "This is a first." Welcome to the NBPD family, Gavin. We think you are going to like it here.

Please join me in congratulating our five newest employees on their accomplishments.

CONGRATULATIONS TO SERGEANT DEPWEG

Sergeant Court Depweg has had a busy week.

Last Friday, September 15, the United States Attorney's Office honored him, alongside retired Detective Dave Syvock, at their 16th Annual Law Enforcement Awards. Sergeant Depweg received the award for his work as a Detective assigned to the Orange County Regional Narcotics Suppression Program.

Sergeant Depweg conducted a seven-year investigation, which revealed that the company, Western Union, was aiding and abetting criminal organizations in laundering over 52 million dollars from the United States to the People's Republic of China from 2005 to 2010. The criminal proceeds being laundered through over 50 Western Union remitter locations were the result of profits from human trafficking, prostitution, drug trafficking, sales of illegal firearms, intellectual property rights violations, fraud and illegal gambling.

Western Union agreed to enter into a Deferred Prosecution with the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission. They were required to make substantial regulatory changes and forfeit 586 million dollars. The forfeiture for this case is the largest in Orange County history by local law enforcement, and the largest forfeiture by a money remitter.

Sergeant Depweg also graduated from the Sherman Block Supervisory Leadership Institute (SLI) on Wednesday, September 20. SLI is a program designed to stimulate personal growth, leadership and ethical decision-making in California law enforcement front-line supervisors. Designed and implemented in 1988 through the efforts of California law enforcement professionals, along with top educators and trainers, SLI is an intense program based on experiential learning techniques.

Congratulations to Sergeant Depweg!

Big Canyon Reservoir Metering Vault and Treatment Improvements to Begin Construction

Public Works recently awarded a construction contract for the Big Canyon Reservoir Metering Vault and Treatment Improvements project to Schuler Constructors. This project includes construction of a new metering vault, installation of a magnetic flow meter, installation of hydraulic and static mixing systems and replacement of the in-building crane located at the Big Canyon Reservoir.

The Contractor will soon begin ordering system components that have long lead times; therefore, construction is anticipated to begin in October.

We are excited that this project is coming to fruition and are very thankful for the participation and coordination with the Water Production team, who was involved in the entire design process.
